Dear Steven Anderson

Application for a visitor visa for:
Applicant:
Steven Anderson

Thank you for your application for a visitor visa - General. We received your application on 07 August 2019.

Our decision on your application

We have declined your application for a visitor visa because you do not meet the requirements set out in visitor visa immigration instructions.

We have made this decision because:

- As part of our assessment we have considered whether you meet character requirements. However, our record shows that you were exclude or deported from countries, such as South Africa, United Kingdom and Netherlands etc. This means you are subject to Section 15 of New Zealand's immigration act. (a5.20.b.iv) unless it is granted by special direction.
- We sent a letter outlining our concern on 9 September 2019, and received evidence that is not sufficient to justify granting a special direction.

We have considered if requiring a bond or granting a limited visa would lessen our concerns or if there are any special circumstances to justify an exception to immigration instructions, but can find no reason for any of these.

Requesting a Reconsideration

There is no right of appeal or reconsideration against a decision on a temporary entry class visa application made outside of New Zealand.

If you have new information that has not been considered by INZ, you can submit a further application. This would be considered on its merits and would need to show that you meet all relevant New Zealand government immigration instructions.
